3. If repair or replacement is unsuccessful, the Customer is entitled, at his option, to demand a corresponding reduction in the purchase price in case of significant defects or to withdraw from the contract.

In case of defects in goods as are not of our manufacture, we are entitled at our option to pursue our warranty claims against the manufacturer or supplier of such goods or to assign such claims to our Customer. The Customer may claim against us in case of such defects only, if Customer's claim against the supplier or manufacturer has been unsuccessful or, for instance due to insolvency, is unpromising.

We shall also have unlimited liability for claims under mandatory product liability laws. We are liable under the legal provisions, if the damage was caused by intentional or gross negligent breach of an essential contractual obligation. Essential obligations are understood to be obligations, which are mandatory for the proper performance of the contract and upon which the Customer could rely upon on a regular basis. We shall also be liable without limitation in case of a defect that has been fraudulently concealed or the absence of which has been guaranteed.
3. Our liability in case of a negligent breach of an essential contractual obligation is limited to the amount of the foreseeable, typically occurring damage.
4. For consequential and indirect damages, i.e. in particular for damages that have not occurred to the goods themselves, such as loss of production, loss of use, loss of profit, financial losses due to third party claims etc..., we shall only be liable in case of breach of an essential contractual obligation and limited to the amount of the foreseeable, typically occurring damage. In all other cases, we shall not be liable.
6. In so far as our liability is limited or excluded, this also applies to the personal liability of our executive bodies, employees, representatives and agents.
